

Daily Bread Research Projects

*The early years of the 20th century brought technology to the general public. Research two to three innovations that were available in 1911 and changed an immigrant family's life.

*Children's play evolves from generation to generation. Throughout time, children played in some way. Interview a grandparent or any person you and your family know who is two to three generations older than you. Ask them what their favorite game was when they were your age. Where did they play? Who were their friends? Why was this a memorable game?

*School communities have also evolved. Research the history of your school. When was it first opened? How many children were in the same grade you are in now? What kind of desks and chairs were in the classroom? Were there specials offered? If so, what were the favorites? How long were the school day and school year?
